MEDVAC is an augmented reality headset reporting information during surgery. It can be expanded for use in liability cases and education. MEDVAC will be released for academia research as a beta version. Then moving towards a global release. The product will be licence based, thus ensuring a constant flow of capital into our company and keeping ensuring constant contact with the customers, receiving feedback in return. MEDVAC will be advertised on social media. Special discounts will be extended to enterprises which opt in to give valuable feedback. Only device of its kind to be specifically tailored towards the surgery environment.
